Project Details

School Name: Karabağlar Vocational Training Center

Project Name: We Are Here To Enhance Your Beauty

Purpose

We aimed to provide hair, hand and nail care to Turkish and Syrian children and young people, who are considered to be socioeconomically disadvantaged and have difficulty in accessing hair, hand and nail care services, and contribute to their self-care in this way.

Audience

The target audience of our project consisted of apprentice students, teachers, private sector employees who are our stakeholders, children and young people in our school.

40 apprentice students and 2 teachers worked for the project;

- 20 children/teens received, Hair, hand and nail care,
- Planned to give 50 more children/teens care.

with our stakeholders, we have identified children and young people who reside around our school and who cannot access hair, hand and nail care services.

We met with the parents of the children and young people we identified and introduced our hair, hand and nail care services and obtained the necessary permissions from them.

We talked to the children and young people we would serve and told them about the service we would offer them, and learned the hairstyles of their dreams.

In line with the wishes of children and young people, with their permission, we cut and shaped their hair in models suitable for their facial structures and gave them hand and nail care.

We conveyed the results of our study to the teachers and students in our school and stakeholders outside the school. In the coming period, we would like to continue this work and strengthen our muscles of doing good without expecting a return.

What Do Beneficiaries and Implementers Think About the Project?

The fact that children, young people and their families, who were shy and timid at the beginning of the project, stated that they were happy and excited after the application made us very happy.

The students who benefited from this service said that their hair was highly appreciated by their schoolmates/ classmates, which made us very emotional.

Our apprentices had the opportunity to gain experience, so they had the chance to develop both spiritually and professionally.

The part I was most impressed with during the project was the smile on the faces of the children and young people who benefited from this service at the end of the application. I would like to continue this project at every opportunity.

Recommendations for Implementation and Development of the Project

- Providing cooperation opportunities at the neighborhood level
- Extending the application area by partnering with different schools

- Trial of mobile service facilities
- Receiving business support for material and equipment needs

- Inviting students at different grade levels to the study and sharing experiences between them
- Introduction of the results of the studies performed
